HELP BETH-EL TO HELP YOU

Beth-El Hospital

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLORADO

Is the only Protestant Hospital in Colorado Springs and the only Methodist Hospital in Colorado Conference.

The facilities of Beth-El Hospital are planned to meet the wishes of everyone. Each department—maternity, medical, surgical—has its own supervising nurse who is a specialist in her work, and who is aided by a competent and ample corps of nurses. Making use of Beth-El during illness of any kind not only aids the patient to better recovery, but at the same time saves worry and confusion among the remaining members of the household.

The situation of the hospital is quiet, restful and beautiful, ideal for effective treatment and recuperation of the sick.

Special attention is given to Diabetic patients. This can be done in a thorough manner because of the excellent facilities of our laboratory and dietetic departments.

The Beth-El Hospital Training School for Nurses is a fully accredited Class A school, offering a full three years' course, covering all the branches of nursing.

There's Health in Every Drop—THE WINDSOR FARM DAIRY

Where Thousands "Hopelessly" Ill Get Well

Without Drugs, Serums or Surgery

The Tilden Health School of Denver, Colorado, (Dr. Arthur Vos, M.D., B.A., President and General Manager) has in 25 years become internationally known as the court of last appeal for the "hopelessly" ill.

Hundreds of people with so-called "incurable" diseases regain their health in this institution every year.

Here they are taught the truth about themselves. Their minds are disabused of the fallacious idea that they can be cured by drugging. They learn that their condition is the result of wrong habits of living—especially wrong eating and wrong thinking. By simply correcting these habits they get well. No drugs, serums or surgery are used.

Visit This World-Famed Institution

Dr. Arthur Vos' Health Lectures every Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock are absolutely free.
Do not miss them.

Early Service Everywhere—THE WINDSOR FARM DAIRY

Stop Contributing

Every time you spend $10.00 for repairs on your car you have added 1c per mile to the cost of your transportation for the next 1,000 miles.

OVERLAND CARS not only save on Oil and Gas, but are so constructed that they require a minimum of repairs, thus reducing transportation cost more than 3c per mile.

You are under no obligation to contribute to the support of the repair man. Your better judgment will make your next car an OVERLAND.

All Methodists who have attended services here know this to be a most modern institution with splendid equipment, unlimited facilities; housing the largest mortuary pipe organ in existence; in a location of beauty and quietude; and operated by a personnel trained to unselfishly consider only the needs of those they serve.

(b) STANDING COMMITTEES AND BOARDS

THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CHANCELLOR TO THE COLORADO CONFERENCE

To the Members of the Colorado Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church

Brethren:

I have the honor of presenting to you my annual report concerning the work of the University during the academic year 1924-25.

I. Necrology—

Since the last meeting of the Conference the University has lost two of the most distinguished and devoted servants it has ever had—Chancellor Henry Augustus Buchtel and Mr. William Gray Evans. The Board of Trustees has engraved upon the permanent records of the University, resolutions concerning the lives and services of these men who for twenty years labored shoulder to shoulder in building a university under tremendous difficulties.

Concerning Chancellor Buchtel the Trustees' resolutions said in part:

"To those who knew the Chancellor intimately, other traits of his fine character appeared. The Executive Committee and the Board of Trustees of the University of Denver knew him as a loyal friend; a friend for all time. They knew his great unselfishness. They knew that he labored, not for his own profit, but for the success of the University which he loved. His money, his time, his ability, and his strength were all given freely for the school. The Trustees all felt that to work with him for the University was a privilege and an opportunity to serve the community. His glorification, on every possible occasion, of the members of his faculty, and the hearty appreciation of the work of the Trustees, were but evidences of his unselfishness and of his love for the University.

After carrying on the affairs of the University under his active guidance for full twenty-one years and four years as Chancellor Emeritus, the Executive Committee and Board of Trustees realized the loss that his death is to them personally and to the University. Friendships have been broken that have ripened through years of labor together for a common cause."

In its tribute to Mr. Evans, the Executive Committee testified that:

"No person took more interest in the welfare and development of the University of Denver than he, and none other gave so generously toward its material support. It is now difficult to see how, in some of the years that are past, this University could have ministered to the educational needs of the youth of this city and state without the assistance of Mr. Evans; but great as was his financial help, still greater was the contribution he made through the time which he devoted to the interests of the University, the energy and the counsel that he gave it. He gave unstintingly of time and money. His broad and statesmanlike views and far-seeing vision, and the accurate judgment which he used in other affairs, he used also in developing the interests of the University of Denver, and none can measure the value of such services. Mr. Evans was of the pioneer spirit and a constructive builder, among others, of educational and spiritual things."

II. Attendance—

The enrollment for the academic year 1924-25 was 3,616.

The following is an analysis of the enrollment by schools for the year just past:

Graduate	58
College of Liberal Arts.....	1,083
Chemical Engineering.....	128
Electrical Engineering
Pharmacy	48
Summer School	865
Extension College	768

Law	129
Dentistry	189
Commerce	798
Total	4,061
Less double counts.....	445
Net Total	3,616

The College of Liberal Arts and the Graduate School are filled to capacity, and the registration cannot be allowed to increase until additional teachers, new buildings, and more adequate equipment are provided.

III. University Activities—

Our chapel services have been greatly enriched this year by the use of the pipe organ. Dr. Hyslop, by his untiring service and superior leadership, has developed the chapel music to the level of great excellence. During the year we have had fifty-five special speakers. Among these were Bishop Smith, Dr. Hans Max Kriesi of Zurich, Switzerland, Honorable J. Stitt Wilson, Senator Wheeler, Anna Gordon, Dr. Arnold Wolfers of Switzerland, Raymond Robbins, Sherwood Eddy, Lorado Taft, Stanley Hornbeck, Dean Tufts of the University of Chicago, Dr. Edith Hale Swift, Sir Neville Wilkinson of Ireland, and Dr. Lincoln L. Wirt.

The Week of Prayer services were ably conducted by Dr. I. B. Wood, the pastor of the University Park Community Church. Dr. Wood presented his five addresses on moral and religious themes in a forceful and effective manner, winning the confidence and support of the student body. Personal and group conferences were held after the chapel meetings.

Our Y. M. C. A. General Secretary, Mr. Schumacher, has been an able member of our staff for a number of years. Under the leadership of Miss Esther Brown, who was this year engaged as the Y. W. C. A. secretary, that organization has had a record year. No organization on the campus has exerted a more powerful or constructive influence among the women students, nor has any received more whole-hearted support from the students as a whole. The two organizations, Y. M. and Y. W. C. A., have co-operated with each other in exemplary fashion, and together they have been instrumental in bringing to the campus some outstanding leaders in Christian work among college students. Among those who were not mentioned in the list of chapel speakers were Margaret Quayle, Roy Akagi, Gilbert Lovell, Ben Cherrington, Kirby Page, and Dr. Leighton Richards. The Christian Associations have, furthermore, participated in the various regional conferences, contributing much and bringing back to the college much in the way of inspiration and constructive ideas. Among the conferences in which they took part were the Estes Park Student Conference, the State Student Friendship Council Meeting, the Bruce Curry Bible Study Conference, The State Training Conference, and the Student Volunteer Conference.

IV. The Stadium—

On March 26, ground was broken for our new stadium. The occasion was one of the most enthusiastic events of the school year. Almost two thousand students and faculty members were present. There were distinguished citizens representing other colleges and universities; the mayor of the city, and a representative of the state. Since the ground breaking, the work has been pushed forward very rapidly. The excavation is practically completed, and the cement foundations are being poured. The bond issue of $350,000 was successfully and efficiently handled by the American National Bank.

Mr. W. S. Iliff, chairman of the Stadium Committee, has done an enormous amount of work to make possible this structure. When finished it will be largely his creation and his achievement.

The stadium will greatly assist in making possible a great program of physical education. In addition to the main football field, there will be two practice football fields, a baseball diamond, a fine track, tennis courts, etc. It will therefore largely take care of our competitive sports program. It will hasten the development of intramural games as well as intercollegiate games. I hope the day will soon come when we shall require every student to participate in some form of competitive sports.

I hardly need stress the fact that the stadium will be an asset to the city as well as to the University. It will ultimately be equipped with spotlights and loud speakers, and therefore can be used for great public open-air meetings, field meets, pageants, and other civic events. I hope it may be of service to the state during the celebration of the Semi-Centennial of our statehood in 1926.

V. The Development Program—

After reporting to you for two years concerning our plans for the University's development program, it is gratifying to me to be able to report that we have successfully completed two stages in that program since last the Conference met.

1. The Campus Campaign—The first stage was our Campus Campaign. This was an appeal to our students, faculty, and employees; and was conducted from December 9 to 11. It was characterized by the greatest loyalty, self-sacrifice, and enthusiasm on the part of all who participated in it. We received practically a 100 per cent response from students, faculty, and employees. There were about two thousand subscriptions and more than $165,000 were subscribed.

2. Denver City-Wide Appeal—The next stage was our appeal to the citizens of Denver.

For the city of Denver we set a million dollar objective, which was to include the amount raised in the campus campaign. This constituted no light task for Denver. It was, I am told, the largest campaign ever undertaken in this city with the exception of the war-time Liberty Loan campaigns, which were, of course, of an entirely different character. In my last report I ventured the statement that the Big Gifts Committee would need to secure almost half the total if we were to be successful. This committee, whose chairman was Mr. Thomas A. Dines, and whose vice-chairman was Mr. Fred J. Chamberlin, did magnificent work, and actually raised just about that sum. Too much credit could not possibly be given to these chairmen, nor to the whole committee, for their tireless efforts and devotion to our cause.

Mr. J. Stanley Edwards was chairman of the campaign organization which made the city-wide appeal. No more effective commander of such an organization has been found in Denver.

The Army of Workers must have been one of the finest ever gathered together for such a task. The interest they developed in the University, and the host of new friends they won for it would have been worth all our effort if not one dollar had been raised. I think they have entered into permanent partnership with us in our enterprise of building a Greater University.

The city-wide appeal was conducted from May 8 to 19. On the last day $921,286.75 had been raised. The members of the Central Committee then signed a statement, agreeing to undertake to raise at least $80,000 more by increased and new subscriptions. This assures us of ultimately reaching the $1,000,000 quota set for Denver.

No one thing did more to assure the success of the campaign than the magnificent gift of $100,000 made by the chairman of our Board, Mr. John Evans. It is one of the largest gifts ever made to the University and caused widespread comment of a character that splendidly paved the way for our Denver appeal.

Mrs. Verner Z. Reed, Sr., and her son Joseph made a splendid gift of $25,000. Mrs. Reed's daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Reed Mayo, just a few days before her sudden death made a gift of $10,000 from herself and her husband, Mr. Paul Mayo. Mrs. Mayo was an alumna of the University, and the University as a whole mourns her going from us. Just having returned from South America, she seemed buoyantly optimistic about many things, and especially about the future of the University. Her death is a tragic loss to her family, to all the members of which we extend our deepest sympathy.

Mr. Karl Schuyler subscribed $12,500. More than this, Mr. Schuyler gave unstintingly of his time as a member of the Central Committee. His enthusiasm and optimism were contagious and did a great deal toward bringing success.

Mr. Thomas Dines, Chairman of the Central Committee, contributed $10,000, as did Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Iliff, Miss Louise Iliff, Mrs. Gertrude Taussig, Mrs. Junius F. Brown, and the Denver Clearing House.

The following made five thousand dollar subscriptions: The University of Denver Alumnae Club, Daniels & Fisher Stores Company, the Denver Post, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cones, Hallack & Howard Lumber Company, Wilson-Cranmer & Company, Charles Boettcher, The Public Service Company of Colorado, Mr. James H. Causey, Mr. W. E. and Mr. A. A. Fisher, Miss Florence Martin, Mr. Henry M. Blackmer, Colonel A. E. Humphreys, Mr. John C. Shaffer, and a friend who requested that his name be withheld. The Estate of Albert Sechrist gave $8,500, the Estate of Esther M. Lewis, $3,850, and the Denver Dry Goods, $6,000.

The campaign has done for us in the winning of new friends and an almost city-wide support just what we hoped it would. The new appreciation of the mission and possibilities of the University is worth much more than the increased financial resources we have gained.

3. The Next Stage—The next stage is our appeal to Rocky Mountain Methodism. The Program Committee of the Conference has invited me to outline this stage in considerable detail, and I am therefore taking a separate occasion and a separate report for it. Let me say here simply that I have the firm conviction that with vision and self-sacrifice and loyalty we can bring this stage also to a successful issue. Let me say also that I have an equally firm conviction that if we do, the reaction upon Rocky Mountain Methodism will be just as great and as wholesome as the reaction from our city campaign was upon Denver. It is frequently said that our city-wide campaign meant more to the city of Denver than it did to the University. This campaign can easily mean more in the way of renewed vitality and power to our Methodism here than to the University itself.

Respectfully submitted,

HEBER REECE HARPER, Chancellor.

September 2, 1925

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION

The University of Denver

For three years the Conference has been aware of the fact that its University has entered upon a development of program which involves the raising of $2,500,000. $1,500,000 of this sum is to be used for increasing the endowment funds and $1,000,000 is to be used for new buildings. In view of the amazing growth of the University, this is not only a modest sum, but it is the absolute minimum requirement for maintaining the work that the University is doing.

On the basis of what Methodism has done elsewhere for its colleges and universities, we might reasonably have looked to the Methodism of this region for this entire sum. However, the University has not done this. It has resolved to cultivate every available constituency and resource. The Conference is aware of the fact that we began by going to others first. In our campus campaign our faculty, students, and employees, in a wonderful display of loyalty and self-sacrifice pledged $165,000. We then went to the citizens of Denver with the greatest challenge ever made to them, asking for $1,000,000. Few people dreamed it could be done. Denver had never given $1,000,000 to any cause in all its history. But Denver put itself in the $1,000,000 class by subscribing that sum to a Methodist University.

The least sum that the University should expect from its own Conference would be $1,000,000. Our endowment per capita student is perhaps the lowest of any Methodist University and one of the lowest in the country. Many Methodist colleges with only 500 or 600 students have two to four times as much as we have for 2,500 students. The Colorado Conference wants, not only a university of which it may not be ashamed, but a university second to none in quality. An absolute essential for this type of a university is adequate financial resources. Methodism has everywhere recognized this fact. Many Conferences that do not have the strength or resources of our Conference have made larger contributions to smaller colleges toward which they sustain only a patronizing and unofficial relationship.

Small though our original expectation of $1,000,000 was, the University has now cut its asking to $700,000. This has been done in order to unite with the two other great educational enterprises of the Conference in what is a unique, constructive and dynamic forward movement. We shall be compelled to look to other constituencies for the balance of our funds, but we think that the unity of spirit and action achieved by this program justifies this combined movement. But let the Conference now clearly understand that we can only attract support in the way of large gifts from other friends when the Conference itself has, by its loyal and generous support strengthened the University to the point where it will engender that confidence that will make it the trustee for large gifts such as have come to Northwestern, De Pauw, and Ohio Wesleyan.

The essential character of Methodism is such that it will die when it fails to have devotion and passion for its educational enterprises. Its life and vitality depend upon its zeal for evangelism and education. John Wesley, an Oxford man, married the two and, if they are ever divorced, Methodism is no more. If the Colorado Conference will now display vision, courage, enthusiasm, and self-sacrifice for its great educational enterprises, it makes sure of the permanence of all its work. Only so can our Rocky Mountain Methodism build with permanence. Only so can it produce a lay and ministerial leadership that will save and develop each local church. The well-being and the destiny of every local church as well as of the Conference as a whole, is inextricably bound up with the forward movement for education. Methodism here will again triumph as it has always done when it has seen a vision.

ILIFF SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

The Iliff School of Theology, long and deeply founded by private means, thereby preempting a high church function of producing a generous share of the trained ministry of a virile block of our Methodism operating between the Missouri River on the east and the Pacific coast on the west, comes now to a time and position wherein the present productive endowment, equipment and resources are not sufficient for the growing demands and needs of said leadership, and therefore in accordance with an action of its Board, in behalf of its alumni, students and patrons, does hereby and herein confidently, urgently, and respectfully petition Colorado Methodism, its logical and willing supporter, as well as actual governor, that the proposed homogeneous joint appeal for $900,000, the success of which shall benefit Iliff by the sum of $100,000, be officially authorized at this session by ministers and laymen and that every practical and possible energy and consecration of each be directed toward the full achievement of said proposed goal.

To the support of this appeal are brought the following considerations:

1. The present measure of the dignity and effectiveness of the Graduate School of Theology can safely be maintained in the face of a general rise in standards elsewhere only by adding to the talent and equipment purchasing power of said institution by an increased productive endowment.
 2. By further investment only will Methodism save for an adequate and increased efficiency the investment already made and thereby pay respect to the generosity of the original donors and establishers through a fresh and powerful recognition of her imperative obligation to the institution which she controls and uses.
 3. $100,000 must be found in the near future in order that the Trustees may bring to entire success the previous appeal of two years ago, thereby satisfying its loyal subscribers already pledged.
 4. For a generation, this school, one of Methodism's four outstanding centers of Theological Education, has, through the liberal benefactions and devotion of the Iliff and Warren families, served the higher training needs of many of our ministry without cost to this conference or area, except in the previous single approach for funds, and thereby strongly merits financial assistance in a day when private funds no longer are adequate.
 5. This asking is not only urgent and strategic, but carries a modesty a bit overdone brought about in part by a cautious and very conservative estimate of resources available. We are asking as little as we dare.
- May the school which private and consecrated capital has founded and Methodism has gladly, proudly and advantageously used, develop strength and leadership commensurate with the task at hand and the opportunity ahead of a virile church and with the size and importance of the territory preempted. As our size, quality, riches and devotion so be our increase in the indispensable equipment for creating ministerial leadership without which modern education and social processes would bring us nothing.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

It is the genius of Methodism, and the precedent of her founder, to believe that the education of the youth of our land must have Christian foundations if we are to safeguard our Christian civilization. Out of this conviction came our denominational colleges and universities. This same conviction has led our church in more recent years to carry to the campuses of the colleges under state control, through the ministry of college pastors, that religious leadership which the state is unable to provide. Methodism loves all her children.

The survey that has been carried on, during the past two years, by the Wesley Foundation Commission of this conference, has discovered that there are 2,500 students from Methodist homes enrolled in the tax supported colleges and the university in this state. The results already obtained through the development of Wesley Foundation work, by the aid of funds contributed by the Boards of Education and Home Missions, have demonstrated the possibilities of the cultivation of this field. In the nature of the case, we cannot expect the mission boards to continue indefinitely the support of work which logically belongs to local responsibility. We believe that the time has come when Colorado Conference should assume responsibility for the maintenance and development of Wesley Foundation work within the conference. Ultimately we must provide for such building and equipment at the college centers as will make possible the highest type of religious education, social and recreational life, and spiritual leadership for all of the Methodist students of the Colorado Conference; and an endowment adequate to maintain this work with the most effective possible personnel. For the present minimum objective, in order to provide suitable parsonages for our college pastors, and insure maintenance of the work already begun, it is imperative that we secure at least $100,000 for Wesley Foundation in the Colorado Conference.

THE EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN

Such is the statement of the interrelated needs of these three educational interests of the conference. Faced with these imperative needs—needs which must be met if Methodism is to continue to make that contribution to the commonwealth that it is her high mission to make, and facing also the actual resources of the conference, with which she can respond to this opportunity—this is the program which this educational committee recommends to the Annual Conference for approval:

We recommend that this Conference carry through, during the year 1925-1926, a united campaign for ONE MILLION DOLLARS for the three educational interests of the Colorado Conference—the University of Denver, Iliff School of Theology, and the Wesley Foundation;

That the Colorado Conference be granted an advance credit toward this ONE MILLION DOLLAR goal, of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS already subscribed by Methodists in the University of Denver campaign in the city of Denver;

That the remaining NINE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS or fraction thereof, or any amounts received in excess of NINE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS be divided according to the following ratio:

SEVEN HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS for the University of Denver;
ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS for Iliff School of Theology;

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS for Colorado Wesley Foundation;

That these three institutions share proportionately, from their income from this campaign, in whatever assistance is to be given to the University Park Church for building purposes.

May we emphasize the fact that this is a program that has been formulated with penetrating vision of the actual resources of Colorado Methodism. It is a program that has been pared to the bone, in an effort to get at the absolute minimum necessary to continue the work that we, as a Conference, have already begun, and for years have been carrying forward.

This program presents to us an opportunity unique in the history of Christian education. Hitherto, we have divided our interests, centering our attention, now on one enterprise, now on another. Such division of interest and effort inevitably entails a wasteful dissipation of our spiritual and material resources. This is a campaign unique in Methodism. Other attempts have been made to link together diverse interests in a common budget. Rarely have men ever faced an opportunity to center the attention of a great conference on its total educational responsibility. This fact gives a singleness of aim and a unity of purpose to the enterprise that brings a stirring challenge to the soul of Colorado Methodism.

This Committee heartily commends the far-seeing statesmanship that has led these three educational institutions to unite in one unified program. The terms of this union are so carefully worded that they guarantee to each the fullest opportunity for development possible. This co-operative enterprise, for the first time in the history of Colorado Methodism, challenges the Conference to face its whole educational responsibility. All that this will mean for the future, even a prophet cannot foresee. It is impossible to exaggerate the inspiration that it will bring to every phase of our spiritual adventure to have the consciousness that we are opening the door for the Spirit of God to enter and take possession of the whole life of the youth of the church, that we are moving forward toward the greatest contribution that any group can possibly make to the quality of the citizenship of tomorrow, that we are insuring, for all time to come, the highest type of spiritual leadership for the Rocky Mountain region.

This is an opportunity that stirs our blood, that warms our hearts, that challenges our faith, that begets a confidence of victory. It parallels and enforces, in every particular, the evangelistic enterprise. It is the highest form of evangelism—the effort to “bring every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ.” In the light of our own heroic past, with the vision of Jesus that bids us to take possession of the whole realm of human experience for the Gospel of God, conscious that the Christian education of today is the Christian conquest of tomorrow, your committee submits this report for your approval, confident that Colorado Methodism will move forward triumphantly through this new door of opportunity that is opening before us.

BETH-EL HOSPITAL COMMITTEE REPORT

September 4, 1925

The past year has been the best in the history of Beth-El Hospital. It has served more people than ever before in its history and has met the heavy demands that have been made upon it in the way of rendering service to Colorado Conference.

The free service amounts to $22,407.66. We commend the hospital for this Christ-like Service to sick humanity. It is disheartening to say, however, that the net amount of money received to apply on this free service only amounts to a little more than $8,000.

We, as pastors, should think seriously about this matter and realize that the money must come from somewhere to meet the bills that are created by the hospital in caring for the needy sick. It seems that more and more not only the pastors of Colorado Conference, but the laymen as well, are getting a vision of the work that is being done by this, our Conference Hospital, and if we can realize more fully our responsibility in the work of the institution, we believe that the money will be forth-coming to take care of the free service item. The hospital should appeal very strongly to all the pastors and laymen because of the wonderful record of service.

We commend the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors for their efficient and business-like administration and we commend the officials of the hospital for their part in the work. We also commend those pastors who have helped the hospital by having the different organizations send supplies, and for their co-operation in the raising of money. It is only through co-operation that the institution has been able to make the wonderful record that it has during this conference year.

The Nurses' Training School is on a high plain. It is recognized as one of the leading training schools in the middle west, and young women going to this school receive a thorough education and have the advantage of being in a Christian Institution.

We commend Dr. E. N. Edgerton, who has been the financial secretary, for his untiring efforts in the work that he was called to do during this conference year. Every member of the conference as well as the officials of the hospital appreciate the very fine and efficient service which he has rendered.

It is becoming more apparent not only to those in charge of the hospital work, but to all of the pastors as well, that the free service must be put on a more business-like basis. To that end we recommend that every pastor set aside Sunday, November 22, 1925, which is the Sunday immediately preceding Thanksgiving Day, to be known as White Cross Sunday; and that every pastor obligate himself to enroll his congregation in membership 100 per cent—that is, $1.00 for every member of his church, and that each one of us enter whole-heartedly into this plan and plan right now to carry it through and to set everything else aside for this, as we realize that the hospital cannot continue to take care of the patients that we, as pastors, send to them unless the money is furnished it by some means.

We recommend further, that in order to take care of the debt that has been created because of free service rendered during the last four years, that a special effort shall be made after the first of the year to raise this money and reimburse the hospital. The time for this special effort to be decided upon by the resident bishop and the cabinet, and that we as pastors pledge ourselves to assist the Bishop, the Cabinet and the officials of the institution in every way to make this a success so that all outstanding bills can be taken care of.

We heartily commend all pastors, laymen, auxiliaries of the Woman's Home Missionary Societies, Ladies Aid Societies, the Sunday Schools and all others, who have assisted the hospital this year in its ministry to suffering humanity. With the larger program in sight for this coming year, we want to place Beth-El Hospital in the hearts of every Methodist pastor and layman stronger than ever before.

CHARLES ODEN THIBODEAU, Secretary.

COMMISSION ON RESERVE PENSION FUND

In the light of the fact that heavy responsibilities connected with the matter of Pensions and Relief lie ahead of us for many years to come, requiring careful study and patient procedure, be it resolved:

1. That we herewith create a permanent Commission of Nine (9) to be known as "The Permanent Commission on the Reserve Pension Fund," whose duty it shall be, in co-operation with the Managers of the Preachers' Aid Society, to take charge of all the affairs and interests of Pensions and Relief in the Colorado Annual Conference.

2. That this Commission shall be created in the following prescribed manner, namely: Three to be designated to serve through one year, three through two years and three through three years, thereby providing for an incoming class of three to be selected each year.

3. Looking toward the ultimate complete unification of all pension interests in this Conference, six members of the Commission shall be chosen by ballot by the Conference in classes of two each, the third member of each class being selected by the Managers of the Preachers' Aid Society, this arrangement to continue until such time as the affairs of the said Society may be legally incorporated with the Reserve Pension Fund. The remaining members of the Preachers' Aid Society Managers may sit with the sessions of this commission, with privilege of debate, but without vote.

4. In harmony with the action taken on last Thursday, the Commissioners are hereby authorized to allow the Field Secretary an annual salary not in excess of $3,600, plus expenses, exclusive of house rent. Of this amount, $600 may be provided from the available funds of the Preachers' Aid Society, and $3,000 out of the collections from the field, on the condition that no funds shall be appropriated for field overhead or salary until at least an equal amount has been raised and paid into the treasury of the fund.

5. That an assessment of 1% (one per cent) be levied upon the cash salary of each effective member of the Colorado Conference, same to be paid by the members themselves, and where a charge is served by a supply the same assessment be made against the charge in order to provide for the immediate requirements of the Field Secretary, including such items as travel, postage, printing and initial salary allowance, we recommend that these assessments be paid, as far as possible, on or before December 1, 1925.

6. It is suggested that the Conference proceed at once to elect the six (6) Commissioners in the manner hereinbefore described, from the nominations of twenty-four (24) members whose names are to be written plainly upon the blackboard. Only one ballot shall be taken, the ballot to contain six (6) names. The two receiving the first and second largest number of votes shall constitute the three-year class, the two receiving the third and fourth largest number of votes shall constitute the two-year class, and the two receiving the fifth and sixth largest number of votes shall constitute the one-year class.

This proposal is signed by the following:

FRANK R. HOLLENBACK,
GEORGE H. STUNTZ,
A. F. RAGATZ,
ERNEST SNIDER,

ILIFF SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

"Love took up the harp of life,
And smote on all the chords with might;
Smote the chord of Self, that, trembling,
Pass'd in music out of sight."

Tennyson.

Perhaps some one more conversant than the writer could with better effect summarize the work of the year. It has fallen to my lot to write a statement and, accordingly, I proceed to speak to the Conference and the Board of Trustees.

As President-Elect of the Iliff School of Theology, I wish first of all to voice my deep appreciation of the unmistakable evidences of the hopeful mind of Trustees, teachers, students and friends of the School as we begin the work of a new administration. This hopefulness may well abide upon the solid supports of first, the urgent need of just such training center for a vast regional church in the making, and, second, the efficient manner in which Iliff has and will enter into the task, the importance of which neither she nor her supporters will underestimate.

The original and stated purpose of the Methodist Episcopal Church in establishing a Board of Education is well reflected into modern Church History and brought down to date by just such an effort and by just such an institution as ours.

We share with our Colleges and Universities the opportunity and task of fostering a Christian leadership that is superior and a superior leadership that is dynamically Christian.

A strong ministry not only means a strong pulpit and a more responsive pew but added virility in all the Institutions and endeavors which appeal to and feed upon the Church. Our Institution is a creator of leadership not for secondary but for primary tasks. The primary need of western culture is moral and spiritual leadership. This leadership must be as commanding as the technique of control of outer substances.

Past Year

Upon coming to Iliff I learn from various sources that the past year has gone into Iliff history splendidly under the able leadership of Bishop Mead, President of the Board of Trustees, and Professor Longacre, who has been Acting Dean. Students and teachers have shown the spirit of a fine, constructive, and generous co-operation. The usual high standards of scholarship have been maintained, additions made to the Library, collections on subscriptions effected through the President's office, and gospel teams organized and finely worked. Professor Behner in his first year of service has very consistently shown adaptability and splendid teaching strength.

Year 1925-1926

The Board of Trustees is acquiring the services of Doctor Ira A. Morton of Rockford College, Illinois, who comes with good equipment to the Chair of Religious Education. Professor Morton has the A.B. degree from Mount Union College, the A.M. from Columbia University, the B.D. from Drew Theological Seminary, and the Ph.D. in Religious Education from Northwestern University. We welcome this man of fine culture and extensive experience to our staff and community of interests.

In addition to the work of Religious Education, Dr. Morton—who has traveled widely—will give a general course in Missions. For further study of the courses offered the coming semester, see last page.

Summer School 1925

The Board of Home Missions under the able and congenial leadership of Dr. Dawber, conducted a School of Methods for Town and Country Ministers, from July 13 to 25, 1925. Dr. Longacre ably did Iliff's share in making preparation for this work and timely and practical instruction was given by Dr. M. A. Dawber, Rev. Jay S. Stowell, and Rev. Charles W. Burrows, assisted by Professors Longacre and Behner. The spirit of reaction to Iliff is well represented in the following:

"I am greatly interested in Iliff. As you know, I am contributing Fifty Dollars per year for five years to the Sustentation Fund. This is my fourth term in the Summer School, and my conviction is that the money I put into Iliff is the best investment I have made in Kingdom building for some time."

Eight different states were represented by the attendance of fifty-four pastors.

*Iliff is mature enough to appreciate the old in truth,
And young enough to view with open mind religious advances.*

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CHURCH SCHOOLS

In order to promote the work of Religious Education in the Colorado Conference, we recommend that an apportionment of five cents per member, based on the average attendance as recorded in the minutes of the year 1924-1925, be made on each Sunday School, this sum to be used at the direction of the Conference Board of Religious Education.

We recommend that special attention be given to the work of Religious Education by providing adequate buildings, trained leadership, and training for leadership. Also that where new edifices are being considered that special attention be paid to the structures that they may be adequate for Religious Educational purposes.

With appreciation of the splendid services of Mr. R. B. Spencer as Treasurer during the past year, we ask that Mr. Spencer be continued as Treasurer for the coming year, and that all money for the support of the program of Religious Education be sent to him at Fort Morgan, Colorado.

We, as the Committee of Church Schools, recognize the constructive work that the Council of Religious Education of Colorado is doing, and wish to express our interest and co-operation.

We heartily commend the work of Dr. H. M. Pingree, Superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal Church Schools of Colorado Conference, and pledge him our support in the promotion of his program of Religious Education.

We present the following names to compose the Committee of the Department of Church Schools of Colorado Conference:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON BOOKS AND PERIODICALS

Whereas, The formation of Christian character is largely dependent upon the type of reading matter used, it becomes incumbent upon our church and ministry, therefore not only to furnish the highest type of reading matter, but as well to induce the reading of the best in literature.

A large news agency reports their largest seller to be a magazine of colorful, stories.

We deplore these tendencies and urge upon our ministry an increased effort to secure the reading of our church papers.

The Central Christian Advocate, the Methodist Review, and our Young People's Epworth Herald. We urge the reading of the books and publications of the Methodist Book Concern.

We also urge the reading of the better class of secular literature.

We suggest that our ministers become the leaders and guides of the reading of the people of the Church and community.

G. E. PENNELL,
W. T. GATLEY,
L. B. LOGAN,
ROY O. HILLS.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EPWORTH LEAGUE

The most urgent need and the living hope of any great cause is leadership. Ability to lead must be developed from early life. The Epworth League offers opportunity for our young people in mental, spiritual, social, and physical development. We recommend it as a field where leadership for the young now, and the strength of the church of the future, may be cultivated. Ministers must be leaders of the leaders. Therefore, we recommend that ministers organize chapters where there are none, and that the work be promoted. We appreciate the growth of Institute work within the bounds of our Conference, and suggest that other institutes be added as may be possible. Pastors should make strenuous efforts to send promising young folks to these short term schools. Also group gatherings might be held profitably throughout the year. The Epworth Herald should be widely circulated.

WALTER A. MCCLLENEGHAN, Secretary,
JOHN L. SPARGO,
R. E. BIRD, Chairman,
L. G. HONNOLD.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY

We fully appreciate the Bible as the real rule and guide of life; and heartily commend the work of the American Bible Society. The record of the year for the world-wide field of this society shows 392,789 Bibles, 496,597 Testaments, 5,762,904 Portions or a total issue of 6,652,299 volumes.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RURAL LIFE COMMISSION

In the light of the fact that slowly but certainly there is being developed a Rural Consciousness in an attempt to seek some solution of the situation confronting the Country Church and realizing further that competition in this field is hampering the advance of the Kingdom, we the undersigned members of the Rural Life Commission respectfully ask approval by the Conference of the following principles:

1. That the church should organize for co-operation with other agencies in the solution of national problems affecting rural life generally.

2. That churches rendering community service should have larger denominational affiliations and that service to the community rather than to the denominational ation should be the primary basis upon which ministers shall be trained, appointed, and promoted.

3. That the conference membership of any minister shall not be jeopardized by appointment as pastor of a federated, or undenominational church where such a church is required for the largest service to the community.

4. That the "enlarged parish plan"—the joining of several small churches geographically related with some larger central church, be advanced that the various departments having to do with Religious Education, social contact, and economic betterment may be extended to the weakest, most isolated country church.

5. That without delay, the administrative offices of our denomination cordially co-operate with leaders of other denominations in a definite effort to eliminate absurd, unnecessary, and un-christian duplications of religious effort and that our denomination lead in this effort.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TEMPERANCE

We make no apology for the platform upon which we stand. God's word admonishes that no drunkard shall enter the kingdom of heaven, and woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink.

We reiterate that oft-repeated but always true declaration of our Methodist Discipline: "It can never be legalized without sin." There is no law it will keep, no pledge it will honor, no child it will not taint, no woman it will not deprave, no man it will not degrade.

There is but one logical, righteous attitude for us to take—that of its utter destruction. We must annihilate the traffic in intoxicating drink in every form or measure.

We renew our endorsement of the Anti-Saloon League as the "Organized agency of the Churches of all denominations, rightly termed "The Church of God in Action" and whose signal triumphs throughout the land have greatly delighted its adherents and supporters.

We heartily endorse the wearers of the White Ribbon, the W. C. T. U. and bid them God-speed in their effective endeavors in the interest of God, Home and all Lands.

Especially do we note with pleasure the progressive work of the Temperance Society of our own Methodism, under the inspiring strong leadership of its Secretary, the Rev. Clarence True Wilson, D.D., and pledge our loyalty to its support.

We rejoice that our great Government is taking stringent measures to get rid of the bootlegger business and we hope that the time is not far distant when these foreign bootleggers shall be asked to quit the business and if not, then deport them.

Realizing the high merit of our Church publications and the pressure upon their columns, we, nevertheless, request our editors to give more space to the Temperance Reform in its several phases.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS

The sixty-third session of the Colorado Annual Conference passes into history. The spiritual emphasis has been notably prominent at this session. We have all been inspired and instructed by the morning messages of Bishop H. Lester Smith, the afternoon addresses of Bishop Theodore S. Henderson, and the evening sermon-lectures of Dr. William L. Stidger. The representative speakers from the various Boards and Societies have likewise brought much in the way of interest and of challenge.

The cordiality of the Methodist folk of Colorado Springs has been evident on every hand. Apparently without effort they have accomplished the task of caring for the hundreds of Conference attendants, and the entertainment has been royal. Dr. George W. McDonald of First Church and the pastors of the other Methodist Churches of the city deserve much credit for the efficient manner in which this part of the work has been handled.

Also worthy of our record here are the courtesies extended to the members and officers of the Conference by: the Young Men's Christian Association, which put its equipment at our disposal; the Press of the city for generous and fair notice of Conference proceedings; Mr. C. C. Morris of the Exchange National Bank for facilities given the Conference Treasurer in the handling of funds; and to Messrs. Roy C. Davis, J. W. Metcalfe, D. F. Law, and Wm. Mason for the use of adding machines in the statistical work of the Conference.

APPROPRIATIONS FOR CONFERENCE CLAIMANTS' SUPPORT FOR CONFERENCE YEAR 1925-26

The support of these Claimants for any quarter depends upon what the Church Treasurers remit the preceding quarter. Also it is the Conference order that all deficit in Conference Claimants' receipts from charges at a session of Conference shall in proportion reduce the following fourth quarter's check to Claimants.

The minimum Disciplinary Annuity Rate for the Colorado Conference for 1924-7 was announced as $6.58 per quarter for each annuity year of a retired minister. Only the even dollar is used in the table of their appropriations, the odd cents finding their place in the fourth quarter's check, provided the churches have sent in their apportionments quarterly and fully or pro rata to each settlement day, not later than the end of each quarter—December 10, March 10, June 10.

The attention of the pastors and church treasurers is called to the fact that Dr. E. N. Edgerton is now the Financial and Corresponding Secretary of the Board, and all checks for Conference Claimants' Annuity are to be sent to him at 1119 N. Corona St., Colorado Springs, Colo.

The record of the charges this year has been fine with a total increase of $1,426.00 over last year; but it is to be borne in mind that the Claimants cannot be paid unless the charges pay in each quarter the amount of their quarterly apportionments. We give below a tabulation of the Claimants and their claims based on the $24.00 rate, reminding the brethren that the legal rate is $26.00 and that the hope is that the balance can be made good to the Claimant after Conference next year.

On the death of any Minister not on the retired list, the annuity claims of his dependents begin at once.

A claim is liable to lawful reduction or to extinction at the end of any quarter.

An asterisk (*) against a name shows that Claimant assigns somewhat of his Disciplinary Annuity to some one of the permanent funds of the Conference Preachers' Aid Society for the benefit of others sooner or later. Such assigners or contributors to such funds received last year $4,233 as annuities thereon.

The following amounts are per quarter only. Fractions of dollar omitted.

REPORT OF PREACHERS' AID SOCIETY

The past year has met with a measure of success. The receipts from interest have been $6,808, the largest in our history. The donations to our Patron's Fund, no large one, have been $4,310.

The Jubilee Fund has paid its beneficiaries $1,877, an amount greater than all its present members have ever contributed to it. This fund is complete at $40,000.

The Patron's Fund has paid dividends of $3,153 on a scale of 6 per cent. We feel we have in this fund a splendid plan for ministers and their wives to help themselves during retirement or widowhood and their families until maturity, and afterwards the church at large; and we most confidently invite our patrons to increase their interest, every minister to become a patron, and our laymen, of whom we have a few, to become Honorary Patrons and share in the benefits. The fund is now $73,450.

(c) SPECIAL COMMITTEES

RESOLUTION ON DEFENSE DAY

Whereas, The General Conference of our church, one year ago last May, led the religious forces of the world in challenging the war systems in international politics;

And, Whereas, One year ago, we, the members of this Annual Conference, endorsed the position taken by our General Conference and pledged ourselves to use our utmost efforts to make effective our avowed determination to put an end to war;

And, Whereas, Once and again during the past two years, an overwhelming protest against the attempt of the War Department to establish a "Defense Day" as a new national holiday, has been registered from all parts of this country.

And, Whereas, There are persistent rumors that the War Department will try to secure by specific Congressional action the support for such an observance; Therefore, Be It Resolved, That this Colorado Annual Conference register again its emphatic protest against any repetition of the attempt to establish a "Defense Day" in the United States.

That we reaffirm our determination to outlaw the whole war system, and to use our utmost influence to create the will to peace;

That to this end we pledge ourselves to register our protest in the most effective possible way, against every proposed action of our government that threatens to stir up international ill will, to use our influence to secure the amendment of such actions of our government as prove to be sources of friction and misunderstanding between nations, and to endorse heartily every action of our government that promises to promote the conditions of an enduring peace.

That copies of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States, the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy and to our representatives in the Senate and House of Representatives.

CHAS. E. SCHOFIELD.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON WORLD COURT

As members of the Colorado Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, we have seen with a sense of growing alarm and sorrow, the strained relation in which our beloved country has been placed in regard to other countries. Our present isolation is one which we believe does not do credit to the fine ideals which we have cherished in the past of helpfulness and even sacrifice for the good of other nations which have been in need. We have not hesitated to use our material resources without stint when a call that sounded like a world need came to our ears. We have even paid the supreme price of human lives on battle fields to maintain a concern for international relations. To a world where mixed motives were common, where were found the finer things of patriotism mingled with the lower motives of national aggrandizement, America said, "We ask for no additional territory, we strive for no material gain. We wish only to make the world safe, where men may live like brothers." We struck a high note of idealism and the world responded to the message. Praise came from every land. America was paid in the finest coin—that of national good will, and every nation allied with us in war, echoed with our praise. We care not to relate the cause which produced a change in our national policy. We know that we have slipped and that our loss is beyond computation. As a nation, we have material resources beyond the dreams of avarice, but what avails all the items of our wealth if we have lost our place in the affection of men, if we are set at naught by the nations of the world, if we have drawn a cloak of isolation about us and have tried to live unto ourselves alone? Because we believe it to be the highest wisdom to acknowledge our errors to retrace our false steps, and once more to show to the nations of the world our fine spirit of altruism, we therefore resolve,

First: That we as members of the Colorado Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, recognizing the non-Christian character of war—that it is not inevitable and that its tendency is destructive of the highest things of our civilization, therefore, call upon the Senate of the United States to find some effective method of co-operating with the other nations of the earth, so that war will be deprived of its legalized place in our national life, outlawed, and be declared to be a crime.

Second: That we insist that the Senate of the United States, when it takes up as unfinished business on Dec. 17, 1925, the question of the relation of the United States to the World's Court, as expeditiously as possible, shall find some way by which the United States may honorably become a member of the World Court on the basis of the Harding, Hughes, and Coolidge terms.

Third: That copies of this resolution shall be transmitted to Senator William E. Borah, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the United States Senate and to the 17 other members of this committee.

W. T. SCOTT.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MEMORIALS FROM OTHER CONFERENCES

A communication signed by certain members of the Kansas Conference, the Kansas Conference Laymen's Association, the Dakota Conference, the Philadelphia Conference, the Wyoming Conference and the Northwest Kansas Conference requests our favorable action on two memorials to the next General Conference dealing with the matter of the admission of laymen to the annual conference as follows:

1. A memorial amending Division three, Chapter 1, Article three of the constitution by adding to paragraph 36, a sentence defining the business of an annual conference to be attended to exclusively by ministers and adding two more articles providing for membership of laymen in the annual conference under certain restrictions as to time of meeting and character of business transacted severally and jointly.

2. A memorial recommending changes in the legislation of the Discipline of 1924 to make it harmonize with the above amendments to the constitution as follows:

In part two, chapter two, paragraph forty, Disciplinary questions 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 39 and 40 are recommended as questions to be acted upon jointly by the ministers and laymen.

Provision is also made for the merging of the business now transacted by the Laymen's Associations with these lay conferences and to transact such other business as may come before it in harmony with the Book of Discipline.

Vacancies in representation may be filled by election at the fourth quarterly conference.

The committee recommends concurrence.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON WESLEY FOUNDATION COMMISSION

It is a decade since Colorado Annual Conference began to recognize the responsibility of Methodism for the spiritual leadership and the religious education of Methodist young people in state institutions of learning. The work, begun in a small way by the aid of a meager appropriation from the Board of Home Missions, has been expanded with the aid of the increased funds available since the centenary, until Methodism has won a place of recognition and influence on four of the campuses of the state. Two years ago this Conference created a Wesley Foundation Commission to study the whole field. Last year this Commission was continued and authorized to collect a fund of $2,500 from the conference and to function as a Wesley Foundation through the year. This commission was instructed to perfect a form of incorporation for a permanent Wesley Foundation and to submit this form to the Annual Conference this year for approval. Our task has thus been three-fold.

1. First, the Wesley Foundation Commission has continued the study of the needs of the student centers and the opportunities offered to this type of work. The Commission has striven to determine, as near as possible, what the ultimate objective ought to be, and what immediate program should be adopted. The Commission has been increasingly impressed with the great importance of this type of work. Twenty-five hundred Methodist students enroll each year in the five state supported colleges and university. These young people are certain to become the leaders in the communities throughout the state during the coming generation. If the church fails to challenge their interest, determine the moulds into which the molten thought of their expanding intellects shall be ultimately cast, command their loyalty and direct their youthful passion for adequate self-expression into avenues of genuine Christian service, during these crucial formative years, it would be a tragedy of the first magnitude. On the other hand, if Methodism can follow these young people through their college career; if she can bring to them through the sympathetic understanding of trained college pastors genuine spiritual leadership in a form that the young people will understand and to which they will respond, she need have no fear for the future. She can enable them to interpret the knowledge newly gained in class room and laboratory in terms of the Christian insight into the supreme values of life. She can help them put into the machinery of new ideas, the pulsing power of a vital religious experience. She can garrison the outposts of tomorrow for new provinces in the Kingdom of God.

The members of the Wesley Foundation Commission are deeply gratified that the three educational interests of the Conference have realized their essential community of interest and have united in challenging Colorado Methodism to face the whole task of religious education that is ours. This united program has been made possible by concessions which are more than generous on the part of the University of Denver. We believe that the time has come when Methodism in Colorado is ready to assume the full responsibility of giving to Methodist students in this conference, wherever their quest for knowledge may lead them, the religious leadership so essential to any worthy living. The Commission believes that the $100,000 which is to be set apart from the proceeds of this campaign for Wesley Foundation is the absolute minimum upon which the work can be carried forward. We believe that we can pledge the loyal and unqualified support of every one who is interested in the success of Wesley Foundation to this co-operative enterprise.

2. In the second place it has been the task of the Wesley Foundation Commission to collect and administer the funds which the conference authorized us to raise during this year. Of the $2,500 assessment apportioned among the various districts and charges on the usual four-point basis, the Commission was able to collect $599.50 before Conference convened. The Conference Treasurer reports that $390.00 has been paid in, in addition, during the session of Conference. Early in the year, the Commission borrowed $250 from the Conference Minute Fund. This is to be repaid at once. $225 was secured from the Home Missionary appropriations on the Colorado Springs district. From these funds, $914 has been applied to the support of the joint college pastor at Golden. $33.77 has been spent for postage, stationery and printing incident to handling this fund. The Secretary-Treasurer of the Commission will be able to turn over to the treasurer of the Trustees of the Wesley Foundation $267, which will be immediately available for student work this coming year.

The work at Boulder, Ft. Collins and Greeley has been maintained by a grant of $6,000 from the Boards of Education and Home Missions through the Wesley Foundation Joint Committee. To this the churches in these three student centers have added $1,800 out of their own local budgets. The total amount expended for Wesley Foundation work in this conference this year has amounted to $9,714. Thus far the Commission has been unable to give any financial assistance to the work at Western State College, Gunnison. Here a Federated Church with very inadequate equipment is the only representative of Protestantism in the most rapidly growing college in the state.

The Commission has faced the probability that the appropriation from the Joint Committee will almost certainly be reduced. We recognize the fact that, while the joint educational campaign promises a substantial contribution to Wesley Foundation work, the proceeds from this campaign will not be available in any considerable amounts for some time. The work that has been begun must be maintained. Therefore the Commission recommend that the Conference authorize an annual collection for Wesley Foundation of 15c per member.

3. The Commission has carefully studied the question of the form that the permanent organization of Wesley Foundation should take. We have had the invaluable counsel of Dr. W. F. Sheldon, Secretary of the Joint Committee and the experience of earlier Wesley Foundations to guide us. After the constitution had been drawn up and tentatively adopted, it was placed in the hands of a competent attorney for advice concerning the technicalities of legal form and phraseology. The Commission respectfully present the following Articles of Incorporation for the approval of the Colorado Annual Conference as the constitution for the permanent Wesley Foundation:

Articles of Incorporation of the Wesley Foundation of the Colorado Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church

ARTICLE I. NAME.

The name of this incorporation shall be THE WESLEY FOUNDATION OF THE COLORADO ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, and its principle place of business shall be the City and County of Denver, Colo.

ARTICLE II. PURPOSE.

1. The purpose of this corporation is to promote the intellectual, social and religious welfare of students, more particularly those who are adherents of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who are attending higher institutions of learning, other than those directly under the patronage of said church, especially the tax-supported institutions throughout the State of Colorado.

2. With respect to this purpose this corporation is an auxiliary of the Board of Education and of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and shall work in harmony with the co-operative plans of these Boards as provided by the General Conference of said church, and it shall be under the control of the Colorado Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, or of its duly recognized successor.

3. This corporation shall have power to acquire by lease or otherwise and hold, mortgage, lease, sell and convey real and personal property and to lend any funds received for that purpose. It may exercise all the rights, powers and authority which a private person could exercise with respect to the purposes and powers of its organization.

ARTICLE III. TRUSTEES.

Section A.—1. This corporation shall be managed by a Board of Trustees, not less than fifteen nor more than twenty-five in number, of which the resident Bishop and the several District Superintendents of the Colorado Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church shall be ex-officio members.

2. The Colorado Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at its first session after the adoption of these Articles of Incorporation shall select four trustees to serve for one, two, three and four years respectively. Thereafter, the Conference shall select annually one trustee to serve four years. In a similar manner the Laymen's Association of the Colorado Annual Conference shall select four laymen to serve as Trustees. The members thus chosen shall elect the remaining members, either ministers or laymen, at large, for terms of not to exceed four years in length.

Section B.—For each institution at which the Wesley Foundation of the Colorado Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church is at work it shall appoint an Administration Committee from its own members and shall define in general the duties of each of these committees. Each of these Administration Committees may increase its own number for the supervision of the particular work for which it is responsible, and shall include as ex-officio members the pastor or pastors of the church or churches to which the work is directly related, and the District Superintendent of the District in which the work is situated. The members of any Administration Committee shall be granted a voice without a vote at meetings of the Board of Trustees.

ARTICLE IV. OFFICERS.

1. The Trustees shall choose a President, a Vice-President and a Secretary from their own number, and a Treasurer who may or may not be a member of the Board.

2. The Trustees may appoint an Executive Committee, with such ad interim as they may define by By-Laws or resolutions.

3. A majority of the Trustees shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

ARTICLE V. MEETINGS.

The time and place for the holding of regular and special meetings with due details concerning the calling and conduct of the same, shall be fixed by By-Laws with due provision for amendments.

ARTICLE VI. RULES AND BY-LAWS.

The Trustees shall have the power to enact such Rules and By-Laws as in their judgment may be necessary for the conduct of the business of the corporation.

ARTICLE VII. AMENDMENTS.

These articles may be amended by a two-thirds vote at any regular meeting, provided that not less than fifteen days notice in writing has been given by mail to each member of the Board of Trustees of the full amendment proposed and of the time and place fixed for action upon it.

The Commission recommends that these Articles of Incorporation be approved by the Colorado Annual Conference, that four trustees be elected, according to the provisions in Article III, Section A, Paragraph 2, that the trustees so elected, together with the four trustees elected by the Laymen's Association and the Bishop and cabinet, who are ex-officio members of the Board of Trustees be authorized to complete the incorporation of THE WESLEY FOUNDATION OF THE COLORADO ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH according to the laws of the State of Colorado.

To this end we recommend that the Colorado Annual Conference request the cabinet to call a meeting of the trustees of the Wesley Foundation at the earliest possible date following the adjournment of Conference, to elect such other trustees as they may deem necessary, in accordance with Article III, Section A, Paragraph 2, of the Articles of Incorporation, to complete the organization of the Wesley Foundation and to transact such other business as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of the corporation.

The Commission further recommends that the Colorado Annual Conference authorize the treasurer of the Wesley Foundation Commission to turn over whatever funds he may have in his possession which have been collected for Wesley Foundation purposes to the treasurer elected by the Board of Trustees of the Wesley Foundation; that the Wesley Foundation be authorized to administer these funds, to collect and administer the assessment of 15 cents per member and any other funds that may become available for Wesley Foundation work in accordance with the purposes of the corporation, and to co-operate with the University of Denver and Iliff School of Theology in carrying out the joint educational campaign authorized by vote of this Conference.

The Commission suggests the following nominees for the position of Trustees of the Wesley Foundation of the Colorado Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church:

For four years—Frank R. Hollenback.

For three years—Henry Guy Goodsell.

For two years—C. O. Thibodeau.

For one year—Elmer Guy Cutshall.

Respectfully submitted,

H. G. GOODSSELL, Chairman,

CHAS. E. SCHOFIELD, Secretary.

A preliminary meeting was held in Denver, June 26th, at which time a sub-committee was appointed to prepare a draft of recommendation and report to the Conference. This draft was submitted to a meeting of the Committee on June 30th and, after corrections and emendations, was unanimously adopted. The Committee's report follows.

II. The Minister and the Church

The question of relationship between ministers and their congregation is one of major concern to both parties involved. However it may be in other denominations, in the Methodist Episcopal Church this is a very sacred, a very intimate and a very responsible relationship. We are a connectional church and our ministry is a connectional ministry. On the one hand, the minister enters his sacred calling with certain definite pre-suppositions and contractual involvements. On the other hand, the Church solemnly undertakes to assume certain clearly set forth obligations as they affect the minister. This is a holy relationship and it may be doubted if there is any other fellowship of service quite so intimate, quite so binding, quite so sacred. It is more than that of employer and employee, or than that of director or executive official in relation to his board or constituents or stockholders. It is not temporary nor transient nor limited to a term of years. It contains both the personal and the permanent. Even though the itinerancy has been an established tradition in Methodism, the relations between laity and ministry have always been cast in the molds of obligation and fellowship.

On the part of the minister, when he stands at the altars of the Church to receive his ordination, he pledges to devote himself unreservedly to the work of God and the Church. This is to be his sole passion and concern. His agreement is not to work a number of hours a day or a number of days a week. His agreement is to be a "good minister of Jesus Christ" and to make the work of the Church and the building up of the Kingdom of God his master interest.

Furthermore, he agrees to work where and when and on such salary as the Church decides; meaning by the Church the Bishop, the District Superintendent and the officials of the local church. He comes as they direct or invite. He cannot, in all good conscience, invite himself, and it would be unthinkable as well as inharmonious with ministerial ethics to appoint himself to a charge or a position. Moreover, he goes when they direct. His tenure MAY terminate at his own pleasure but it MUST terminate at the pleasure of those who have appointed or invited him.

Allowing for exceptions here and yonder and speaking by and large, it is an experimental truth that in the Methodist Episcopal Church the coming, the staying and the going of the minister are in the hands of someone else rather than himself. He understands this when he enters the ministry. He accepts it without question and, if he is the strong, true man that he should be, he never whines in the application of this principle and rule.

On the part of the Church, it accepts the minister on such terms with the understanding that he devote his whole life to ministerial service and that during the active years of his ministry it will provide for him what in Methodist nomenclature is termed "a comfortable support." This, of course, is variable and means that a sum which represented a comfortable support fifty or twenty-five or even ten years ago is inadequate under current conditions of prices and the purchasing power of money. This comfortable support, therefore, will be interpreted in terms of various items; such as the strength of the church, the financial resources of the congregation, the ability of the preacher and the prevailing financial conditions in the country. This standard of support or salary is fixed by the church or by the district or by the institution which the minister serves; and if, as happens in many places, this agreed-upon stipend is not paid in full, the minister has no recourse but goes to Conference with the euphemistic report that there has been a "deficiency" in his salary. Such deficiencies are rarely collected after Conference, no suits are entered affecting them and the pastors and district superintendents suffer personal losses in consequence on a basis of proportionate rating, while the Bishops' Fund and the Conference Claimants' Fund also share in the loss.

Moreover, the Church promises its ministers, in consideration of the life pledge which they make to the ministry, that when the years of effectiveness are over they will be retired upon pensions supposed to be sufficient to give comfort in retirement, provide for old age and make it possible that "at evening time there shall be light."

Moreover, the minister himself does not always determine the time of his retirement. Recent legislation by the General Conference makes it possible for a preacher who has been active for forty-five years or who has attained the age of sixty-five to take the retired relation, although he may be in good physical health. Perhaps the majority of retirements from active service come because of physical infirmities or supposed unacceptability in the churches, in which event the decision is frequently made by the churches' refusing to accept the man longer as pastor or the Conference may force his retirement even against his will.

Such are the terms of the sacred compact into which the Methodist Episcopal Church enters with its minister and such are the binding obligations which it assumes for his care. These obligations are operative, not only in the years of his productive and active service, but continue after his retirement and cannot be invalidated even by his death, at which time it passes to the dependent members of his family.

III. Disciplinary Provisions

From the far off days when scant provision was made for the retired ministers and the administration of funds in their behalf was a matter more of mood than method, the Church has come to a different interpretation of its responsibility in this regard and has attempted to lift the whole question to the plane of justice rather than of charity. For several years the Church has attempted to meet this obligation to the retired ministers by establishing a rate of payment for the claimant. It took the average salary in the conference in which the minister was retired, divided by seventy and multiplied it by the number of years of effective service. This was a distinct step in advance, yet the plan has never functioned on the one hundred per cent basis. There were but four conferences in Methodism last year which met their claims in full. The Colorado Conference was not one of them. With an annuity rate of twenty-six dollars, we paid our annuitants on the basis of twenty-four dollars or ninety-two per cent. This, however, is a much better showing than that of most of the conferences of Methodism. As a matter of practical operation of this disciplinary program, the Church has attempted to keep its obligations to its retired ministers by one of two possible plans or by a combination of both. The first is the collection plan.

IV. The Collection Plan

This method was originally adopted by the Church and has continued either in whole or in part in every conference in Methodism up to the present hour. This plan is the one with which our ministers and laymen are familiar, yet a study of conditions and tendencies fully reveals its difficulties, embarrassments and perils.

At the first it seemed simple enough and it is interesting to note in a survey of facts for the Colorado Conference that up until the year 1890 even the meagre collections raised by the Church were more than sufficient to meet the claims of the Conference; so that the surplus not paid to the claimants was invested both in real estate and in other investments, until it became necessary about that year to devote all the monies raised to the claimants themselves. Since then the claims have increased with great rapidity, until a sum in 1890 totaling slightly over one thousand dollars reached over fourteen thousand dollars in 1918; since which date the amounts collected from the churches increased to more than forty thousand dollars in both years 1923 and 1924, being an increase of 172% in six years; or an average of nearly 30% per year.

That this is typical of the entire church will be seen from a study of statistics available from the Conference Claimants' Board since 1900, when it was organized and established as a connectional institution. In that year, slightly over one million dollars was the amount distributed to retired ministers, their widows and orphans throughout the entire denomination. In eight years this amount had increased 300% or to over three millions of dollars, and in twelve years more had again trebled. In 1923, the aggregate was nearly ten millions of dollars. And if this rate of increase is maintained, by the end of the present quadrennium it will amount to between sixteen and seventeen millions of dollars.

We wonder how much longer this plan can be maintained in the Church. We wonder to what pinnacles of giving in the annual collections our churches may be expected to go. In 1924 for the first time in the history of the Colorado Conference there was a slight decrease in the aggregate which the churches gave the Conference Claimants. This may or may not be significant, but in any case furnishes food for reflection. Some of our churches are paying an equivalent of thirty per cent to forty per cent of the pastor's salary. And the history of the Church indicates that these percentages, if the present plan is continued, will increase rather than diminish. It seems likely that such increase will sooner or later make the plan prohibitive.

The reasons for this are obvious when once they are mentioned. Our distribution system to the Claimants carries the same embarrassments of those of any other non-contributory assessment plan and finds these embarrassments increasing as the years go on. When an organization is small, when those involved are young, and when few are being retired from active service, then this collection or assessment plan works little or no hardship. But with the increase of annuitants, as the number of beneficiaries grows larger, as the annuity years multiply, as the men become older, and as the rate of claim increases in the various Conferences, the assessment or collection plan heads for bankruptcy and disaster.

A few years ago the Carnegie Foundation, which undertook to pension retiring teachers and professors, discovered that, despite its vast millions of capital, it could not continue its non-contributory pension plan without jeopardizing the integrity of its funds and facing ultimate insolvency. This promises to be the fate of our present claimants' collection plan in the Methodist Church unless it is altered in the very near future. This plan cannot stand the strain of the years, because it becomes a burden and eventually a prohibition.

Since 1910 the number of claimants in our church has doubled and the annuity rate has also doubled. The annuity years in the various Conferences have mounted so that from fifteen to eighty-five per cent has been the increase in various Conferences in the last eight years.

Moreover, there is a wide discrepancy under such a plan as it operates in the various Conferences of Methodism. The rates in the various white, English-speaking Conferences vary from ten dollars to twenty-nine dollars per annuity year; while the percentage paid on such claims in the same Conferences range from fifty per cent to one hundred seven per cent. There are Conferences in the same state with similar territory and similar conditions in which, because of different types of leadership or other conditions, one Conference seeks to discharge its obligation to its claimants on the basis of seventeen or eighteen dollars per annuity year, while across the line the rate is from twenty-five to twenty-six dollars per annuity year. Surely such great discrepancies should not occur in an item so vital to our ministry. Manifestly this issue is connectional in its character and apparently should be so administered.

It seems clear, therefore, after a careful scrutiny of the facts and tendencies, that the collection system is now being strained to the breaking point and that some other plan must be devised and adopted to save from disaster this enterprise in which ministers and laymen alike are so vitally interested.

V. Conference Endowments

The second plan which is usually employed supplementary to the first is that of creating and establishing endowment funds to provide in part, at least, for the annuity claims of the retired ministers, their widows and orphans, supplementary to amounts raised through the churches. Long ago, far-seeing men in our ministry discovered that collections through the churches alone would not provide adequately for our Conference Claimants. Therefore, in practically every Conference in Methodism such endowment funds have been accumulating and have relieved to some extent the necessity of the claimants on the one hand or the apportioned amounts to the churches on the other. However, it is impossible, even with a statistical table before you, to determine the value of these funds for the reason that many of them are restricted or entailed in such a manner as to make them either partly or fully non-available for all the claimants. Many of these gifts are in the form of real estate, after-death deeds and after-death bonds; so that it is impossible to appraise the capital in possession of the various Conferences which might be available as endowment for all the Conference beneficiaries.

To use the Colorado Conference as an example, if one consults the general table setting forth these endowment funds, he discovers that this Conference is credited with an invested capital of $123,836. An analysis of the situation reveals, however, that an amount less than $15,000 is in the Conference Fund as such and therefore available for all the beneficiaries. There are two other funds known as the Jubilee Fund and the Patrons' Fund. These are special and restricted, as will hereafter appear, leaving Conference funds of an endowment character for the use of all claimants of about $14,500.00.

VI. The Proposed Pension Insurance Plan

These facts and similar ones gathered from the various Conferences, all pointing toward needed change and radically different methods, led to an action by the last General Conference reconstituting the Board of Conference Claimants into a Board of Pensions and Relief and requesting this board to make a study of a new and different plan, moving in the direction of its adoption by the Conferences of Methodism. This study is being made and proposals are being brought forward under what is known as "The Pension Insurance Plan." It follows closely the actuarial plan adopted by the Carnegie Teachers' Fund, by which all teachers and professors who are to be the beneficiaries of the fund pay into it a certain percentage of their yearly salary as a premium, while the college or institution employing them pays a like or an agreed-upon percentage each year. More than eight years ago the Episcopal Church adopted a similar plan which, after these years of operation, results in ninety-nine per cent of their ministers and churches using the plan, affording larger remuneration to the beneficiaries with smaller contributions by the churches. Similar policies and programs have been adopted by the Presbyterian Church, the Congregational Church, the Baptist Church and the Disciples Church.

VII. The Plan in Its Operation Contains Three Important Features

1. It first affects those who are now retired ministers, their widows and orphans. It places these in a special class and closes the door. For their continued support the churches and Conferences are responsible and will continue to remunerate them on the present basis until they pass to their heavenly reward. This will necessitate yearly collections in our churches as we have been taking them in the past, though manifestly such collections for such purpose will naturally diminish from year to year through the deaths of the claimants, until all have gone to heaven and that plan and that fund become a closed incident.

2. Another item of importance affects those who now enter active service and also those whose service will be continued after a fixed and arbitrary date for the adoption of the plan. In other words, it will take care of all the annuity years of the young men entering the Conferences after this fixed date, as well as the annuity years that are to accumulate after this date for those of us who have entered the active ministry before this date and who have to our credit certain annuity years, the claims of which are not now due but will be due at our retirement.

According to carefully worked out actuarial tables, the plan provides that each church and each pastor pay a certain per cent of the salary into general pension funds. The district superintendent also will be provided for in a similar way and other ministers in detached service will have the same arrangement with the college, hospital or organization with which they are employed. According to this plan, the minister will pay two and one-half per cent into the pension fund. He pays this as a premium which is to be administered as a reserve fund at compound interest according to approved insurance principles. His church will pay an equivalent of eight per cent into the fund with a maximum schedule based upon a five-thousand-dollar salary. That is to say, no matter how much above five thousand dollars the salary may be, the minister pays no more than two and one-half per cent of five thousand dollars, or $125 per year, while the church pays no more than eight per cent of five thousand dollars, or four hundred dollars per year into the fund.

This provides a reserve fund which at compound interest will produce a sufficient amount so that at an average age of retirement a minister may have a pension allowance of from forty to sixty per cent of the average ministerial salary through his effective years. Those receiving the smaller salaries are to have the larger percentage of the retiring fund. Those receiving the larger salaries will have the smaller percentage. So that while there is not a straight equalization of the retirement fund, yet the churches and ministers paying and receiving the larger salaries will help those receiving and paying the smaller salary. In effect the plan works something like this: A pastor whose average salary during his effective years has been approximately twelve to fifteen hundred dollars will upon his retirement receive sixty per cent as his claim. Those receiving approximately twenty-five hundred to three thousand dollars will receive fifty per cent; while those whose average salary has been above three thousand dollars will receive approximately forty per cent of the average salary, with the five-thousand-dollar salary as the maximum for calculation.

In other words, the retiring pension on the average will be from seven hundred fifty to eight hundred dollars as a minimum with approximately two thousand dollars as a maximum. Under this plan and by this contribution on the part of the minister, he is much better off on the average than under the present system; while the churches will find their amounts reduced from thirty to sixty or seventy per cent. From the experience of other churches, it appears that this plan when in operation is immeasurably better than the collection plan and approaches the ideal toward which we should strive.

This program will entail deep consecration, greater effort and more generous giving on the part of our ministers and churches for the present. But if the Pension Insurance Plan is adopted, the collections will gradually decrease until finally the sole yearly responsibility of the churches will be the eight per cent of the pastor's salary.

3. There is a third important feature, however, which remains to be discussed and which is the most difficult of all. It is comparatively easy to place the present claimants in a closed class and support them on the collection basis until they pass to their reward. These collections manifestly will diminish from year to year until they entirely vanish. Further, it is a simple item of actuarial insurance to plan for the retirement funds of young ministers entering the Conference after a given date, as well as to cover the annuity liabilities which will accrue to the church on behalf of all ministers after that date. The difficulty is to provide for the accumulated years of annuity liability which those in the active ministry have already served, payment for which is not now due but which will be due when we retire.

It seems evident that provision for these obligations, which are in the nature of a deferred note not yet due but which must be paid at a future date, can be made only by the raising of reserve or endowment funds which will in due course be liquidated or commuted into payment for these accumulated years. It seems so fortunate as to be providential that the various conferences of Methodism have been accumulating such funds, though their original intention was for supplementary purposes to relieve the collections in the churches or to increase the amounts paid to the claimants.

In Conferences where these funds are unrestricted, they may be supplemented to the point of adequacy and commuted into reserve funds to take care of these accumulated liability years. In Conferences where the funds are of a special or restricted character greater care must be employed and greater efforts will be required to make such provision.

VIII. Colorado Conference Funds

In the Colorado Conference there are three such funds. There is the Conference Fund which is unrestricted and which may be built up as a pure endowment or, in the event of a change to the proposed Pension Insurance Plan, may be commuted into reserve funds for that purpose, though the present amount of less than fifteen thousand dollars is manifestly negligible and totally inadequate. There are two other funds in the Conference and under the direct control of the Preachers' Aid Society. They are the Jubilee Fund and the Patrons' Fund.

The Jubilee Fund, as the members of this Conference well know, has been completed and closed. The celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the first Methodist sermon in Colorado gave the name to the Fund which has been closed at the capital sum of forty thousand dollars. This sum is to be kept intact for the benefit of the contributors thereto, to be consolidated with the Patrons' Fund and after all of its provisions have been met, the excess income shall be placed in the Conference Fund for distribution or endowment as the Board of Managers may decide.

The Patrons' Fund is still open and is being enlarged in substantially the same way as the Jubilee Fund. In other words, it is a contributory fund for the benefit of those who have contributed, as well as the widows and dependent children of claimants who have been members of the fund and who are deceased. It has now reached an amount something in excess of seventy thousand dollars. This, together with the Jubilee Fund, constitutes a trust fund for the beneficiaries thereof, which no action of the Conference can in any way affect. However, the following recommendations in the opinion of the Committee will not in the slightest jeopardize the Patrons' Fund, will continue its service and beneficence to all concerned and as intended by the donors, and yet will provide a means for the partial solution, at least, of the difficulty which our Conference faces in the need of an unrestricted fund.

IX. Committee Recommendations

These recommendations are as follows:

1. It is deemed advisable to discontinue all solicitations for the Patrons' Fund and to build up as rapidly as possible by bequests, gifts, after-death deeds and bonds, etc., the Conference Fund.

2. Another recommendation affects Section Four of the By-Laws of the Constitution of the Preachers' Aid Society regarding the annual percentage of interest which beneficiaries of the Patrons' Fund may receive. In this paragraph it fixes the minimum at six per cent per annum and the maximum at twelve per cent. With no desire to jeopardize or infringe upon proper returns upon the money of those who have contributed to the Patrons' Fund, it appears to the committee that every interest will be safeguarded by a reduction of the maximum from twelve per cent to eight per cent, leaving the minimum at six per cent and the maximum at eight per cent per annum.

3. Further, it is recommended by the committee that an effort be made to secure voluntary relinquishment on the part of the beneficiaries of the Patrons' Fund, such relinquishment to take effect at the death of the last disciplinary beneficiary in the claimant's family, whether it be minister, widow, or dependent child; thus securing to the claimant and his family full benefits from such funds during their lifetime, but releasing to the Conference Fund his proportion of the Patrons' Fund, thus adding to the former and thereby benefiting all the claimants of the Conference.

4. It is the recommendation of this committee that there be full understanding on the part of all members of the Colorado Conference that no trust fund of the Conference or of the Preachers' Aid Society be jeopardized in the least, that they be maintained for the purpose for which they were created and that they be used for reserve and unrestricted endowment funds only after they have served the purpose for which they were created.

5. But that future solicitations of gifts and bequests should be to the Conference Fund.

6. We recommend that legal and proper notice be given according to the provisions of the Constitution of the Preachers' Aid Society for the change of percentage herein recommended from twelve to eight per cent as a maximum.

7. And we strongly urge upon the generous consideration of the members of the Patrons' Fund the assignment of whatever interest they have in such Fund after their death and the death of the last surviving disciplinary claimant of their family to the Conference Fund.

It seems clear to the Committee that the Colorado Conference, along with the other Conferences of Methodism, must seriously consider the necessity of a change of plan for its Conference Claimants. It is apparent that the collections plan is inadequate and will soon become oppressive to the point of prohibition. Further, that mere endowment funds required to relieve the situation are of so vast amount as to be next to impossible, and that our Conference must earnestly consider for its adoption the proposed new Pension Insurance Plan.

In harmony with these recommendations and looking in the direction of their adoption, we recommend:

8. That all these interests affecting the funds for the Conference Claimants be unified under a single management with full legal protection for all.

9. That a field representative be employed to promote the general interests of the Funds.

10. That we maintain our collections for our claimants at one hundred per cent.

11. That we favor a new plan embodying the principles of the new pension plan.

12. And that, looking forward to its adoption, we must increase our Conference funds by private solicitation, thus supplementing church collections which will be large under the new plan for a period of from five to ten years, then gradually diminish.

13. And finally, we recommend that the net income from all unrestricted Conference Funds be used from this date forward to supplement the collections from the churches, both for the benefit of the Conference Claimants and for the reduction of the apportionments to the churches.

VALEDICTORY REPORT OF THE TREASURER OF THE M. E. C. C.
PREACHERS' AID SOCIETY

To date the Treasurer's Report has always coincided with that of Secretary John Collins and taken no space. Upon entering his twelfth and final year's service, the Treasurer begs unwonted space for words valedictory, retrospective, explanatory, prospective, and, finally brethren—hortatory. The hour is fit. Never so healthfully eager on Claimants' matters were ministers and laymen for information and morale.

Auditors Jones and Miller reported the securities all present and correct, with cash reconcilable. Few dollars of mortgage interest are overdue.

To John Collins and wife, now with such difficulty yielding to younger hands the monumental work which for thirty years they have wrought upon by day and taken to bed at night, the thanks of Claimants and Conference are eternally due. Ever green be their lasting memorial.

For thirty years this Society of the Conference has been primarily and incurably a "contributors" annuity society, and only secondarily and ultimately for non-contributory Claimants and the unconditional and general Conference Funds. John Collins reports these Contributors or Jubilee-Patrons' Funds as nearly $114,000 (year's increase of $5,000), on which because of bond or by-law obligation were paid to them as Contributory Claimants $5,000 as earned dividends, which promise ultimately to fall into the lap of all Colorado Conference Claimants. He made no mention of the Society's exclusively "Conference Fund," so long and earnestly voted and ordered to grow, reported last year as $14,500, which is now $14,000, its net interest and $500 of the principal having been applied by Conference order in paying $1,200 on its late Executive Secretary's salary. Surely a "going concern" is your Society, whatever other plans may be or have been or become. Along its essential and successful lines is the "coming one" being laid. It may be "Retired" and told to go to sleep, but it will still be here, when other plans shall be but memories.

Since the average pastoral membership in the Colorado Conference is less than six years, a new crop of mind has ever to be informed as to what things have been, that correctly it may be known what they really are. In 1911, the Conference, by compromise, constituted the nine Managers of its incorporated Aid Society by virtue of their office nine of the thirteen Conference Stewards, electing biennially thereafter one from each District outside Denver. This secured a possible quorum in Denver. One set of officials (only one such meagerly paid) did all the Conference Steward's work without cost to them or to Claimants or Charges, beside doing the Society's ordered work of increasing the various Permanent Funds for Claimants' support from $35,000 to nearly $130,000. Thus the Society became practically the Steward's banker, as well as finally the guarantor of the Claimants' support quarterly.

For thirteen years this omelet continued until 1924, when at Pueblo the Conference saw fit to unscramble the eggs and put three men on the job. It now is seeming desirable to scramble them again under one man. Blessings be upon him!

The light of history. For a century, the year's Claimants' money was the last collected, was brought to Conference, and within a week was disbursed to a copper by the Stewards for Claimants' support during the whole opening year. But our attention was called to the fact that a widow having received her opening year's support, died in a week, and that money really belonging to other underpaid Claimants fell into the hands of grown relatives to whom it did not belong. Also a colored Claimant cannily postponed her wedding day until the receipt of her year's support, remarrying the next day!

Under this primitive plan, Conference Stewards were not supposed to hold Claimants' money twenty or forty weeks. And where a Claim expired mid-year, the prepaid money went wrong. And where an Effective died mid-year, there was nothing for widow and orphan until Conference.

In 1913, the Colorado Conference was one of the first, if not the first, to rebel against this crudeness and inequity, proposing and the next year ordering the more equitable and scientific way of paying only a quarter in advance instead of a year. This the Discipline now legislates as optional, and most Conferences have adopted it, the Pittsburg Conference actually adopting monthly payments! Our Claimants loudly and fearfully rebelled at first, though now generally agreeing that their money goes farther—"PROVIDED FULLY AND PROMPTLY AND CERTAINLY PAID QUARTERLY!" Just and reasonable! The Effective man, too, dies with less dread.

But all this pioneering in paying only a quarter, introduced in transition a predicament in the Steward's work undreamed, and not yet sensed and specifically provided for in the Discipline. It may leave in the hands of unincorporated and scattered Conference Stewards three-fourths of Claimants' money for three months, half of it for six months, and a fourth for nine months, with chance bank failures and possibly costly errors in trying to get a bit of interest thereon for Claimants, many of whom lie awake nights dreading, or sleep only to dream of morning headlines: "Country Bank Closed!"

To hold those postponed moneys under those circumstances and dangers is not fair to Claimants, and yet it had been recognized as equally unfair to pay a whole year in advance. Nor is the risk fair to the Stewards themselves nor to the trusting Charges. The whole new trend for a quarter of a century has been away from the complete ANNUAL turnover, toward the complete QUARTERLY turnover. Steady, gradual, easy income, with quick and complete outgo. The only safe and logical counterpart of the quarterly payment to Claimant is like quarterly payment by Charge.

Suffer emphasis on this point, as it is the only key to a happy future. As once the yearly turnover in a week left in the Steward's hands little or nothing until a year hence, so now the quarterly turnover quickly from Charge to Claimants should leave little in their hands until a quarter hence. The principle is exactly the same. Only "yearly" and "quarterly" differ, to the great advantage of "quarterly." Over and over and increasingly does the Discipline legislate in this direction, by ordering remittances by Charges on each and every "Quarterly Settlement Day," (§327), and the Quarterly Conference Question four times a year: "Has pro rata distribution to each BEEN MADE?" (§108, §22; §190, §16; §187; §324, §2.)

The practical exhaustion of funds quarterly and replenishing quarterly is the normal ideal. It gives the jobless, houseless, creditless Claimants a three months' start of the Pastor, instead of a year's start. For the Stewards to have too little on hand as the quarter ends, is subnormal and distressing. To have two or three quarters is ABNORMAL. If Conference Stewards are to hold quarters two or three and four on hand, what sense is there in Charges remitting quarterly, and how long are they going to do it? That would leave three quarters cash in Stewards' hands all the time, year in and year out—a needless and costly risk. Which habit is to increase and which decrease? Stewards now subject their Treasurer to a bond for perhaps more than he is worth, but if he is to hold for months and months some $25,000 of Claimants' money, why should they not insure his deposits also? In all this matter, the Church is "between hay and grass," between old custom and new, and has no clear legislation. The new Hingeley Plan now being born, relentlessly demands heavy quarterly payments in advance both ways for everybody. From 1914 to 1919, we carried such Claimants' withheld quarterages for rest of the year, and it worried us. A risk the Conference has no right to ask any to bear.

How things have come about as they are in Colorado: From 1911 to 1919, the Conference members insisted that it was they alone who should decide how much it was their pleasure to apportion to the Charges for the Claimants' support, with the result that in 1911 they voted to pay and raise only 42% of the Disciplinary Claim; in 1913, 44%; 1915, 56%; 1917, 64%; 1918, 76%.

In June, 1919, the Minute Men took it up and addressed the Congregations upon this delinquency of a dollar in every three promised and agreed, and quite generally the Congregation on the spot passed a motion urging the Pastor to vote to pay and raise the full Disciplinary apportionment for Claimants, which it would welcome and properly pay. (This was the first large Conference so to do, and in less than a year the General Conference made such full apportionments obligatory on Conference Stewards without vote.)

The money coming in at Greeley had been apportioned at Delta to meet the voted $12 part of the lawful $17 rate. On hand were $20,000. To pay as ordered the full $18 rate, the Stewards foresaw would require over $30,000, with six new Claimants put on the list. But they agreed to pay in full quarterly in advance, PROVIDED THE CHARGES WOULD REMIT AT THE END OF EACH AND EVERY QUARTER!

Accordingly, they proceeded with $20,000 in hand to pay the $30,000 called for, accepting as collateral the promised receipts for the last third (four months) of the Conference year opening. They apportioned enough to cover the current $18 rate.

But when the Conference of 1920 arrived with its nearly $30,000, two other things arrived also. First, all that income was needed for the opening year. Secondly, so much had the Charges lifted their Pastor's salaries in 1919-20, that by so much they had lifted the Claimants' Rate to $24, or a quarter (three months) more. The four months' loan was not called, but extended, and increased to a seven months' collateral. In 1922, the same thing occurred. The boosting of Pastors' salaries lifted the Claimants' from $24 to $28, adding a two months' lien on coming receipts from Charges, or three-fourths in all. Mid-year in 1923-24, the Treasurer, despite official urging, refused to sign another check until Conference. At Pueblo, the receipts were $45,000, three-fourths mortgaged. But as since full advance payment in 1919, there had been no prorating of Claimants' Ministerial Support with the deficits of Pastors and others, it was ordered on motion of C. A. Wright, to deduct from the last quarter payable to living Claimants, 2.58% on all money paid to them since 1919, which saved some $5,000, and reduced the loan to only eight months' collateral, or $30,000 of the $45,000. The divorce of Stewards and Society called for that loan over night, and left the former with no credit—and only $15,000 toward coming quarterly payments. Upwards of $11,000 was ordered paid by the old board as October-December quarterage to Claimants, and towards $4,000 delivered to new Treasurer Kingsley toward his January-March quarter to Claimants.

Of course, to an old-timer of the 18th or 19th century and its ways, that all seems abnormal and questionable. In fact, however, it was and is for the 20th century mind perfectly normal, wholesome, and in the fullest accord with the modern trend of the Discipline, namely, to make one quarter's collections from the Charges pay instantly the following quarter's checks to Claimants. Treasurer Kingsley reports now in the bank for opening year some $16,000, with which to pay the October-December quarterage of $11,000, with half as much over on the next. But DUE Claimants from the alert and business-like Charges in December will be some $10,000 collected during October-December, which will enable him to pay that January-March quarter to Claimants. "In-and-out annually," is now giving way to "in-and-out quarterly" to everybody's advantage, and the sailing is clear. Claimants got their full benefit of these anticipations with no wakeful nights. Normal equilibrium and minimum risk have arrived. Their cancelled checks or assignments to Patrons' Fund are open to inspection. Seven other alert Conferences are reported as having moved in this direction.

Finally, brethren! As to the coming M(inisters') R(eserve) P(ension) F(und)? I am for it, since it utilizes every principle for which we have stood. But those who spurned paying a $2.50 P. A. Society dues when their hair was black and abundant will have with hair scant and white to pay ten or thirty or fifty times as much to make up for lost time. But "some on boards and broken pieces of the ship" all will get to land.

Brethren: Never has a word been uttered on this subject in a score of years which had any other intent than that the preacher, care and business free, might "give himself wholly to leading the people to Jesus."

WILBUR F. STEELE, Treasurer.

VII. Memoirs

(Preserving the memoirs of Full Members and the Wives of surviving Full Members. Commemorating other immediate kindred departed in salient features only.)

Henry Augustus Buchtel

Born near Akron, O., Sept. 3, 1847. Entered into Paradise, withdrawn into the depths of eternity, Oct. 19, 1924. Those were the phrases he used as thousands of others, and they alone are appropriate to him.

Large place in this Memoir will be given to words and paragraphs of appreciation by his friend, Dr. Claudius B. Spencer, in the Central Christian Advocate, whose tribute could not be excelled.

He was well-born. His forebears were of the Pennsylvania Dutch stock, from whom he derived those qualities of solidity, sturdy adventure and religion which show out in his own life. His grandfather was a learned German astronomer; his father's brother was the founder of Buchtel College. In his teens, Henry went to Depauw for a year, and then entered the business of a druggist and started on a flattering career, but which he recognized was full of pitfalls for him. It was then he began thinking seriously on religion, hearing in the depths of night the distinct call to the ministry. This brought him—already a preacher of intense fervor and a winner of souls—back to the university which gave him his well earned A.B. in 1872, and A.M. in 1875. As his powers increased, his Alma Mater recognized the same with yet two doctorates.

With his wife, whose courtship was an idyl, he went to Bulgaria as a missionary. When shortly, Mrs. Buchtel's health failed, they were ordered home, and at Greencastle, the home town of DePauw University, he had a record of pastoral and fruitful evangelism which is a tradition until this hour. The power of God was upon him. Under his ministry, hundreds a year found a personal savior. In 1885, he was called from LaFayette, Ind., to Denver as pastor of Evans Chapel, a brown-stone forerunner of far-famed Grace Church. Two years later he was impelled to accept the important appeal to transform old Lawrence Street First Church into the magnificent Trinity Church.

Would you see the monument of Henry Augustus Buchtel, go to Trinity, Denver; look at that auditorium by day or night, that window of the Resurrection, that frame soaring on high above the pulpit, having as many electric bulbs as there are books in the Holy Bible. Look at that pulpit of hammered bronze at the baptismal figure—you have seen the soul of Henry Buchtel.

Almost every pulpit in our denomination was open to him. His career as preacher and pastor was outstanding. It was universally said: "Why should one so successful and sought, ever do any other kind of work?" And that at half the other's remuneration. But upon unanimous written appeal and appointment of the Board of Bishops, he came to save the University of Denver in the hour of its peril. For a score of years his giant frame and soul were drained in that herculean task until the days of his collapse and death. All but the younger members of the Conference can recall with what cheerful grimness he held himself and them to the work of saving and strengthening the university. For all those years one dollar in every three of his salary went back into its empty and indebted treasury, sharing thus with his teachers. All those years he was invited elsewhere, but he stayed by. He practised, preached, and inspired heroism in the saving, upholding and expanding of the pronouncedly Christian college.

The first three Chancellors of the University were at one time or another offered the governorship of Colorado. In a critical hour, Dr. Buchtel was drafted there to and a clean, constructive administration followed. At his choice he was inaugurated in Trinity Church, students in gowns being his chosen body guard rather than the military in their trappings. What he counted as his supreme achievement as governor was his signing of Colorado's Local Option Law. The possibility that he might secure and sign such law was a chief factor in leading him to accept the office.

He was many sided in preaching—ever most scripturally—he became so effected himself that at the close of his sermon he was trembling like a leaf, hungering for solitude with his Lord, only enduring the appreciative greetings of the pleased hearers.

None ever more enjoyed friendliness and fellowship than he. He said that his ideal was two or three friends at every dinner hour. He was generosity itself. Some of us got into the habit of refusing to take the same street car he was entering, as he was sure to be counting the number of us Park people whose fares he insisted on paying.

Our Conference condoles with Mrs. Buchtel, Dr. Frost, Craft Buchtel, Mrs. Emma Buchtel Lennox, and Miss Mary Buchtel.

Truly a Prince in Israel has fallen. Being bodily dead, he yet speaketh. May all his superb qualities nerve us for our immediate and coming tasks! Think how he would have rejoiced in undertaking them.

Rev. Samuel H. Kirkbride, D.D.

"A just man and one that feared God," Samuel H. Kirkbride is dead. Little did we who loved him suspect last conference at Pueblo that it would be his last. He had wrought for us with rare skill and absolute devotion. Given the most difficult, delicate and in many respects, most important office in the conference service—that of Secretary of the Board of Conference Relations—he filled it with discriminating efficiency and conscientiousness unexceptionably for several successive terms of years.

Through his unrelaxing care, membership in this body has been wisely guarded; candidates have always had kindly and sympathetic consideration and the supreme interests of Our Lord's Kingdom have been held paramount.

He had peculiar adaptability for this place: Reared amidst the conventions of an older civilization in Northern New York, he cherished a sacred regard for the Church and an almost sacerdotal esteem for the office of the ministry and the dignities of worship.

To his ability as a pastor—for he was a superior preacher in the substance of his discourse, he added the experience of a successful Presiding Elder. In this latter office, he was painstaking and toilsome to a degree. Moreover, he knew men and strong men loved and trusted him. The personal friendship of leaders in the conference had been given him almost without reserve. Men like Bishop Warren, Chancellor Buchtel, Daniel A. Rader and others of their type sought his counsel and followed his advice.

It was such qualities which made him valuable to his brethren. He was equipped to serve the conference in a very competent way. Much might be said of him in other relations. He loved the out-of-doors. Tramping amongst the pines and mountain peaks of the Western slope or fishing along its streams not only brought back health to his body—for which he had come to Colorado, but strengthened his spirit and gave tone to the fine poise and calmness which characterized his personality.

As husband and father he was always tender and considerate. His children even when grown to manhood and womanhood never ceased to seek his counsel or defer to his wise judgment. His was an exemplary family unit; broken only by occasional visitations of the Destroyer. Three sons and one daughter preceded him into Paradise. Four sons and a daughter, all grown to adult years, together with Mrs. Kirkbride, survive. Roger, the son most recently deceased, had distinguished himself markedly in the country's service. He received numerous medals and citations from the government and was promoted to the rank of First Lieutenant on the field of battle. He died from the effects of his wounds.

Dr. Kirkbride was born at Lake Pleasant, N. Y., August 5, 1859, and died at Wesley Hospital, Chicago, Ill., following two major operations, April 8, 1925. He was educated in the Public Schools of Troy, N. Y., and graduated from the Troy Conference Academy in June, 1883. In September of the same year, he married Phoebe Charlotte Purdy at Frankfort, New York. He was licensed to preach and received into the Troy Annual Conference in 1885; received Deacons Orders, Bishop S. M. Merrill, officiating, April 25, 1886; was ordained Elder by Bishop Goodsell at Santa Fe, N. M., Oct. 12, 1890. His charges and appointments were Rockwood and Ephratah, N. Y., 1885-87; St. James, Cahoes, N. Y., 1888-89; Chama, New Mexico Mission, 1890-91, (Sup'y), 1892; Florence, Colo., 1893-97; Presiding Elder, Rio Grande district, 1898-1904; Pueblo, First Church, 1904-07; since which date he has been the efficient Agency Secretary for the American Bible Society, first in Denver and then in Chicago, Ill., until his decease.

Mrs. D. K. Maynard

Metta Elizabeth More, the daughter of the Rev. Thomas and Flora More was the child of the Methodist Parsonage; her father being one of the charter members of the Upper Iowa Conference. She came "trailing clouds of glory" into the light of days on June 9, 1862, at Elkador, Iowa.

When she was a child of fifteen years, her father went to his heavenly crowning. The parsonage home was broken but its atmosphere did not vanish. Seven years later she came into a parsonage home of her own making; for on June 4, 1884, she joined the fortunes of her life with those of the Rev. O. K. Maynard, a member of the Upper Iowa Conference. There then began the beautiful adventure and romance of spiritual endeavor which has been the central glory in living through all the ages.

Finely sensitive to the spiritual and moral values, she intuitively discerned the vital factors in home and character-building and gave herself to them with an abandon of energy and enthusiasm. She filled her home with refinements and cultural forces and kept an upward look of expectancy that what she had prepared in feeling and thought and habit God would make use of to build the temple of the soul. And she saw her reward. God gave her four boys. And though the first born died in infancy, three became the pride and satisfaction of her mother heart.

In her church relations she was discerning and sympathetic. Every form of Christian service had her heartiest interest and helpfulness. A sphere of special interest to her was that of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society. For several years she served with efficiency as Corresponding Secretary in the Algona District of the Northwest Iowa Conference. Yet deeper was her interest in and fondness for the work of the church school. The boys claimed her affection. She was one of those personalities adapted by interest, training and experience to win and hold them. For many years she taught their classes with eminent success.

As the wife of an itinerant, her labor of love was spent within three annual conferences. Early in those ministerial years, a transfer was effected from the Upper Iowa to the Northwest Iowa Conference. Here she presided as "mis-stress of the manse" in the most important charges and during her husband's term in the District Superintendency was mistress of the "Eldersage" when the hospitality of that home made glad the hearts of the pastors and families of the district.

In the Autumn of 1910, while in the pastorate of Whitfield Church, Sioux City, her health failed and in December following she came to Colorado Springs and spent three months when a transfer was effected which moved the family to Fruita in the Colorado Conference.

A few months of mountain atmosphere and sunshine sufficed for her to regain quite fully her health and she was able to go on in the joy of her work as a pastor's wife. At Fruita, Delta, St. Paul's Pueblo, Cameron, Denver, and Longmont, the radiancy of her Christian life left its light upon the hearts of the throngs drawn to the parsonage fellowships.

The Spring of 1920, her health again failed. Since then she put up the bravest of fights in the most testing of struggles. She seemed to be gaining the victory over her tubercular trouble when fifteen months ago a series of physical ills entirely apart from her old trouble, brought her great suffering, shocking her nerves and proving almost unendurable. Much of the time she felt she could hardly endure to live longer and constantly prayed the Heavenly Father for release and rest in Him. The end of her weary, painful journey came, Monday morning, August 31, at 10:45 o'clock.

The funeral service was held Wednesday afternoon, September 2nd, and was participated in by her pastor, Dr. Ernest Snyder, Dr. John J. Lace, a long time intimate friend of the family and Dr. W. C. Wasser, a former pastor. The tender affection and solicitous care of the friends in Pueblo made the hour beautiful in sorrow—a tribute to the love and esteem in which she and her family are held.

Interment was made in Mountain View cemetery where that frail body rests—a shrine for her dear ones until that morn when her angel face will smile. She had a feeling of spiritual realities for time and eternity which she leaves as her greatest gift to waiting loved ones and friends. With us are her husband, our beloved brother, Dr. O. K. Maynard, and three sons, Dr. Carl W. Maynard, a physician of Pueblo, Orville K. Maynard, a professional musician, also of Pueblo, and Donald M. Maynard, a member on trial in the Colorado Annual Conference. We, with them, are sitting in the light of her radiant life and in the confidence of fellowships that are forevermore.

Mrs. Cyrus A. Brooks

Adeline Virginia Campbell was born in Campbell County, Virginia, August 30, 1849. She was married to the Reverend Cyrus A. Brooks on August 30, 1868, at Vineland, Kansas. Dr. and Mrs. Brooks came to Colorado in 1872 and for 36 years husband and wife pioneered together in this state for Methodism and the Kingdom of God.

To them were born two daughters and one son; Bertha, who was called home in 1912; Walter, who died in early childhood; and Miss Ella, who resides with her father in University Park, Denver.

Mrs. Brooks' health began to fail some ten years ago. Seven years ago she fell and broke her hip and from that day on she never stood alone and spent her days in constant suffering. Death came, therefore, as a blessed relief on May 25, 1925, when Sister Brooks was but three months short of seventy-six years of age.

The funeral service was conducted at the Yeager Mortuary in Denver. Dr. I. B. Wood, the pastor, read the Scripture lesson and the Obituary; Dr. J. F. Harris offered the prayer and Dr. W. F. Steele and Dr. Wood paid tributes to the departed. The burial was at Fairmount Cemetery, Denver.

Sister Brooks' life record will never be worthily written and will never be fully appreciated save by those who knew her intimately. A quiet body, undemonstrative in her religion, she was as genuine and as consecrated as she was undemonstrative. Sent with her husband into some of the most difficult situations in the State, she went like a faithful soldier, without questioning, and gave of herself to the utmost for the work to which she felt that she had been called of God. Enduring the hardships that always attach to pioneer tasks, she maintained a saving spirit of optimism which characterized her throughout life. In all her years of suffering her loved ones never knew her to complain. She was cheerful under every circumstance. Richly does she deserve those immeasurable things which God has prepared for those that love him.

(Undergraduates will please study these rules carefully.)

(a) Candidates for Reception on Trial

Candidates for Admission on Trial may take examinations during the year, on recommendation of their District Superintendent, under Supervisors properly appointed.

(b) Those in the Regular Course

1. May take examinations during the year under Supervisors properly appointed by arranging therefor with the Registrar.

2. No undergraduate shall be entitled to advanced classification who is delinquent or has failed to pass, in two (2) books to be studied, or three (3) books to be read, or in one (1) book to be studied and two (2) to be read. For either Reception on Trial, or Admission in Full, and for ordination as Elder, the law permits no "conditions" whatever.

3. Upon the complete and careful reading of each book to be read, the undergraduates shall certify that fact to the Registrar.

MISCELLANEOUS

1. All those pursuing the course of study shall contribute the sum of fifty cents per annum to defray the expenses of examinations.

2. All persons working in Mission Conferences, who are seeking Reception on Trial or are pursuing the course of study under the auspices of this Conference, shall be required to pass the examinations submitted by the Conference Board before they shall be Received on Trial or advanced in the year's studies, unless the examination is in course in a foreign language.

3. All candidates for Reception on Trial and all undergraduates who have not completed their examinations shall meet the examining board at the seat of Conference the day before the session opens, to close the work of the year.

4. The examining board shall not be required to give any examination or to examine or report on any written sermon or essay after the opening of the Conference session, except at the option of the Board on satisfactory reason for not appearing within the time above specified.

(b) CONFERENCE RULES OF ORDER AND PROCEDURE

(Economy of time and breath suggest careful study.)

1. The President shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the Conference. In case of such appeal the question shall be taken without debate, except that the President may state the grounds of his decision, and the appellant may state the grounds of his appeal.

2. The President shall appoint all Committees, unless otherwise especially ordered by the Conference.

3. On assigning the floor to any member of the Conference, the President shall distinctly announce the name of the member to whom it is assigned.

4. No member shall absent himself from the sessions of the Conference without leave, unless he be unable to attend.

5. When any member is about to speak in debate, or to deliver any matter to the Conference, he shall arise and respectfully address the President, but shall not proceed until recognized by him.

6. No member shall be interrupted when speaking, except by the President to call him to order when he departs from the question, or uses personalities or disrespectful language; but any member may call the attention of the President to the subject when he deems a speaker out of order, and any member may explain when he thinks himself misrepresented.

7. When a member desires to speak to a question of privilege he shall briefly state the question; but it shall not be in order for him to proceed until the President shall have decided it a privileged question.

8. No person shall speak more than twice on the same question, nor more than ten minutes at one time, without leave of the Conference; nor shall any person speak more than once until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken; provided, however, that a Committee making a report shall, through its Chairman, or one of its members selected by the Committee or its Chairman, in all cases be entitled to ten minutes to close the debate; either to oppose the motion to lay the report on the table, or, this permission not having been used, to close the debate on the motion to adopt.

9. Resolutions shall be written and presented in duplicate by the mover. All motions shall be reduced to writing if the President, Secretary, or any member requests it.

10. All written motions, reports and communications to the Conference shall be passed to the Secretary, to be by him read to the Conference.

11. When a motion is made and seconded, or a resolution introduced or seconded, or a report presented and read by the Secretary, or stated by the President, it shall be deemed in possession of the Conference.

12. The following motions shall be taken without debate:

- (1) To adjourn.
- (2) To suspend the rules.
- (3) To lay on the table.
- (4) To take from the table.
- (5) To raise the question of consideration.
- (6) Call for the previous question.
- (7) To reconsider a non-debatable motion.

13. No new motion or resolution shall be entertained until the one under consideration has been disposed of, which may be done by adoption or rejection; but one or more of the following motions may be made, and they shall have precedence in the order in which they are given, namely:

- (1) To fix the time to which the Conference shall adjourn.
- (2) To adjourn.
- (3) To take a recess.
- (4) To lay on the table.
- (5) To order the previous question (cannot be laid on the table).
- (6) To postpone to a given time.
- (7) To refer.
- (8) To substitute.
- (9) To amend.
- (10) To postpone indefinitely.

14. Only one amendment to an amendment shall be in order, but then it shall be in order to move a substitute for the main question and one amendment to the substitute, and if a substitute is accepted it shall replace the original proposition.

15. It shall be in order to move the previous question—that is, that the question be taken without further debate—on any measure pending, except in cases in which character is involved; and if sustained by a vote of two-thirds the question shall be taken; nevertheless, it shall be in order under this rule to move to refer or to recommit (on either of which the vote shall be taken without debate); to divide or to lay on the table, after the previous question has been ordered. It shall not be in order to move the previous question or to move to lay on the table at the close of a speech in which the pending question has been discussed.

16. The motion to adjourn shall be taken without debate, and shall always be in order, except

- (1) When a member has the floor.
- (2) When a question is actually put, or a vote is being taken, or until decided.
- (3) When the question is pending on sustaining the demand for the previous question.
- (4) When the previous question has been called and sustained, and action under it is still pending; and
- (5) When a motion to adjourn has been negatived; and no business or debate has intervened.

17. When any motion or resolution shall have been acted upon by the Conference, it shall be in order for any member who voted with the prevailing side to move a reconsideration; but a motion to reconsider a non-debatable motion shall be decided without debate.

18. Every member who is within the bar at the time a question is put shall vote, unless the Conference, for special reasons, excuses him. No member shall be allowed to vote on any question who is not within the bar at the time when such question shall be put by the President, except by leave of the Conference, when such member has been necessarily absent.

19. It shall be in order for any member to call for the ayes and noes on any question before the Conference, and if the call be sustained by forty members present, the vote thereon shall be taken by ayes and noes.

20. These rules may be suspended at any time by a vote of two-thirds of the members present and voting.
